

Free Legal Services for Low Income Native Americans and Alaska Natives

Are you facing an issue in school? Do you need help with your attendance or performance in school? We can help!

The Native American Unit at Northwest Justice Project provides free civil (non-criminal) legal services to eligible Native American / Alaska Native students and their families in Washington. Cina Littlebird at the Native American Unit is available to provide advice and representation to Native American youth and their families in civil legal matters that can impact the student's attendance of or performance in school.

Cina can work with you on (among other things):

- Education matters including:
 - Expulsion, suspension, & truancy
 - Discriminatory discipline
 - Special education & learning disabilities
 - Parents' rights
 - Other situations impacting a student's ability to participate in school
- Emancipation (students seeking to be legally independent of their parents)
- Foster & homeless student issues
- Health matters including denial of health care services or assistance in obtaining mental health services
- Housing problems such as evictions, discrimination, or deposit issues
- Public benefits matters including applying for, denial of, or reduction of public benefits

To find out if Cina or the Native American Unit can help you, contact Cina at cina.littlebird@nwjustice.org or (206) 464-1519 ext. 0919.

What is Northwest Justice Project?

The Northwest Justice Project (NJP) is a statewide non-profit organization with 13 offices in Washington State that provides free civil legal services to low-income people. NJP's mission is to secure justice through high quality legal advocacy that promotes the long-term well-being of low-income individuals, families, and communities.
